REVISED:

Southern Rhode Island Conservation District to hold election for board of director members

WESTERLY, Rhode Island, November 7, 2024 – The Southern Rhode Island Conservation District will be holding an election for two members of the district’s board of directors on Monday, November 18 from 9:00 am - 5:00 pm at the Fresh Harvest Kitchen at 9 East Avenue in Westerly. Running for re-election on November 12 are current board members Phil Moreschi of Charlestown who will be running for a two-year term and Katie Keiffer of Wakefield who will be running for a three-year term.

All occupiers of land within the district (Washington County and Kent County) are eligible to vote. Advance registration is not required; however, proof of residency in the district is required (e.g., driver’s license, utility bill, copy of a lease). Please contact Christine Cooke at ccooke@sricd.org with any questions.

The Southern Rhode Island Conservation District (SRICD) promotes and achieves a healthy environment and sustainable use of natural resources for the people of Kent and Washington Counties and the State of Rhode Island, now and for the future, by coordinating partners to provide technical, educational and financial resources.
